

The easiest way to manage training. Create customized training plans, create and manage training curriculums, and manage users and departments within your organization.

Anyone can do it.

TrainCaster enables anyone to create online training courses without any programming knowledge or HTML expertise. There is no new software to learn. Get up and running immediately using a friendly interface and a Course Manager page with access to easy conversion tools.

Leverage existing resources.

Using only a standard web browser, you can rapidly create and deploy online training courses using our automatic conversion tools. Start with PowerPoint presentations, Word documents or HTML pages - then transfer the course content to TrainCaster using Course Builder. Courses can include text, images, and media-rich training material including streaming audio and video. Or, deliver any SCORM-compliant third party course. You can also create a library of Course Resources that includes training material from other sources such as Flash and MS Office, as well as links to external websites.

Create auto-corrected quizzes.

Use the built-in Quiz Editor to quickly create quizzes and assessments with customized responses and links back into the training materials. Quiz results are immediately displayed to trainees, so they can measure their understanding of the materials. Create curriculums and training plans.

Automatically assign training plans to trainees based on the risks and exposures they encounter in the lab on a daily basis. Use the Training Needs Assessment feature to assign training plans to individuals based on their day-to-day job responsibilities.

Automate training notifications.

Personalized reminders go out to trainees automatically with TrainCaster's auto-notification emails. You can tailor notices based on the nature or timeliness of the information sent to trainees.

Trainees are automatically informed of training assignments, due dates, and overdue training status.

Deliver training using only a web-browser.

Trainees access courses using My TrainCaster. The easy-to-use interface shows trainees which courses they are currently taking, which courses have been assigned, and which courses they have completed. Trainees can also browse the catalog, change their profile information, review course curriculums, or download supplemental course materials. Certificates of completion are automatically generated for trainees who successfully complete a course. These printable certificates are stored on the Course History page, and are always available for re-printing.

Monitor training status with real-time reporting.

Track all of your training records in your centralized TrainCaster database, including instructor-led courses. Generate training reports, compliance reports, and administrative reports from a single location that can be easily downloaded, printed and emailed.

Key Features

FEATURE	CAPABILITY	BENEFIT
	Easy Setup. We offer a hosted solution, so there is no software to learn, and no IT infrastructure required.	You are set up and ready to go in days, not weeks.
	Course Conversion. Easily convert your existing training content into online courses using our Powerpoint and Word conversion tools.	Deliver your courses to trainees their convenience, anytime, anywhere.
	100% Browser Based. No plugins or downloads are required to access, create, track or manager your courses and training records.	Create, deliver, manage, and access your training courses using any Web browser on any operating system at any time from anywhere.
	Quiz Creation. Add quizzes, assessments and exams to your courses using the built-in Quiz Editor.	Easily assess trainee's mastery of course content, without learning HTML.
	Trainee Management. Trainee data records can be imported into your database. You can assign courses and curriculums to trainees based on their day-to-day responsibilities.	Flexible course assignment tools give trainees immediate access to relevant course content.
	Printable Certificates. Certificates of Completion document successful completion of courses.	A hard copy of a training certificate is always available.
	Secure Delivery. Password protection, IP address blocking, and SSL encryption are a few of the security features available.	Your training records, course materials, and reports are accessible only to authorized users within your organization

info@traincaster.com

U.S: 1.888.475.3165
Worldwide: +1.978.887.2100